

Gather your colleagues and volunteer!

COVID-19 Community Vaccination Clinic

If you have been sitting on the sidelines waiting for a way to support healthcare workers and our community during COVID-19, now's your chance to move from the sidelines to the frontlines, and represent your business, group, or organization at the same time!

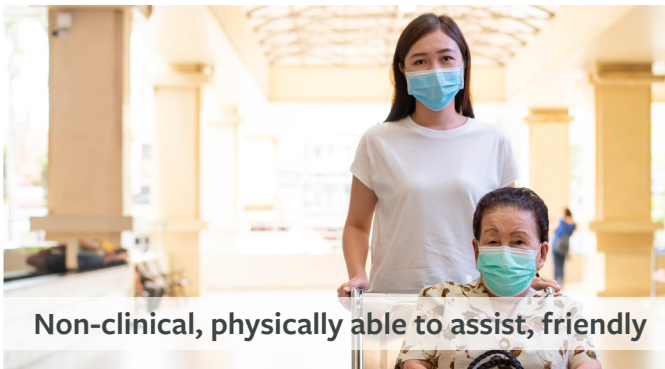

Northern Light Health is seeking small groups across Maine who are looking to volunteer their time at one or more of our Community Vaccine Clinics in a variety of roles. This is a great way to represent your organization in a positive light, build bonds with colleagues and board members, and do good in the community all at the same time. We are actively recruiting teams of four to ten people who would be interested in helping to protect our communities and our neighbors against COVID-19..

If you would like to register an organization to volunteer at an upcoming COVID-19 Community Vaccination Clinic for full or half-day shifts, or to just learn more about the commitment, please contact Shane Boyes at United Way of Eastern Maine.
